APRIL 2024

MESSAGE FROM CLUB PRESIDENT.

April is off to a flying start with a club meeting Tuesday, April 2 at the Edithvale Centre with an in-person speaker presentation on time-lapse photography. Since some members will be capturing the Total Solar Eclipse on April 8th, we switched our 3rd Member Showcase with presentations from Lidia Brandes, Tony Scopazzi, Jonathan Ward, and Robert Robson to an online Zoom meeting on Tuesday, April 9.

Our Annual General Membership meeting will be held on April 16th in an online Zoom meeting before the presentation of the Robert Zakrison Time Competition results. Please attend, as we have important business to discuss.

Congratulations to the winners, runners-up and all members who entered the Fine Arts Photography (V.L. Richards Trophy,) competition. In the Novice Division, the winner was Robin Miller; the Intermediate/Advanced Winner and overall Trophy Winner was Ann Alimi. Well done everyone.

Please submit your images to the Robert Zakrison Time Competition, the O3C Inter-club Open Challenge and the CAPA Salon. These are wonderful opportunities to step out of your comfort zone, grow, showcase your creativity and display our collective talent.

The Program and Competitions Committees have worked diligently to organize the 2024-2025 season. We have an impressive preliminary program of speakers, competitions, outings, evaluation groups, SIGs, member showcases and more to look forward to.

This month we'll be looking at how travel can take your photography to another level, thanks to the work of Lidia Brandes, Tony Scopazzi, and Jonathan Ward, and the O3C Travel Day Seminar April 20th, where we'll have a table and a special promo for new members who join our club.

TRAVEL PHOTOGRAPHY

Learn from leaders in the field, learn from other participants

My experience with photo trips.

BY LIDIA BRANDES

I started taking photo trips long before I joined the TDPC. On photo trips, one not only visits extraordinary locations and learns from leaders but also from other participants on the tour. In 2015, I used a Canadian company Luminous Landscape (no longer offers travel) and most of the participants were men. I bonded with the only other woman on this trip and for a while we traveled together. While it's great to have a travel partner, you can travel solo with a well-organized photography tour and reputable travel company. Here are some of the tour leaders I travelled with.

One tour can lead to another

The photography world is not that big, so when you start to travel with an organized tour, you meet leading photographers and learn about options for future tours.

My first photo trip. Iceland 2015, Lidia Brandes

SCOTLAND AND NORTHERN SPAIN TOURS

I did a tour with Alistair Benn who lives in Scotland and runs the Expressive Photography group. Alistair Benn is not only an excellent photography tour guide but a superb speaker and instructor for any photography club. His company is also online with workshops: <https://expressive.photography/>

ICELAND, GREENLAND, AND FAROE ISLANDS

For my tour of Iceland, I travelled with Daniel Bergmann who lives in Iceland, and through him I met Joshua Holko. Joshua is an Australian who specializes in polar regions. I did two of my Greenland trips and the Faroe Islands with Joshua who is an excellent photographer. His company Wild Nature Photo Trips is very well-organized and delivers excellent tours; however it is getting very expensive. <https://wildnaturephotoexpeditions.com/>

LOFOTEN

Through another photo girlfriend, I was introduced to Wide Horizon Photo Adventure run by two very friendly, and good photographers Edwin Martinez and Noel Casaje. For some reason they don't have a website. They rely on Facebook and word of mouth. It is a small group and relatively less expensive. I recently did Lofoten with them, and plan to do more trips with them in the near future. Edwin could be also a very good speaker for any photography club. Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/WideHorizonPhotoAdventure/>

DOLOMITES

The only trip run by a woman was my Dolomites adventure. Erin Babnik specializes in the Dolomites, Death Valley, and the French Alps. I did the Dolomites with her in 2018; she's very professional. She comes to photography from the Arts and History. Her trips can be physically demanding. Website: <https://erinbabnik.com/>

Jump on the opportunity to take a photography tour

In general, I don't plan my trips far in advance. A lot of well-known photographers are booked at least two years in advance but at my age there is no guarantee that I will be able to participate in two years. So sometimes I learn about an opening, and if the time, location and the price is right, I jump on the opportunity. Being single and retired is beneficial in that respect. I recommend photography trips if you want to see the world, learn from some of the best leaders in the field and participants who share your passion for photographic excellence.

Don't miss the TDPC Member Showcase (Online Zoom Event) Tuesday, April 9th at 7:30 p.m. where Lidia Brandes will present on her recent trip to Greenland.

BY JACQUI JERUZALSKI

TRAVEL PHOTOGRAPHY

Before you travel, research the area you are going to, look at images online, and think about the equipment you will need to shoot in that area. Get familiar with all the standard classic shots of the most photographed sights, and then try your hardest to return with something different.

PHOTOGRAPHING AT THE BEACH

It is all about the light, try to shoot when the sun is lower in the sky. Try sunrise or sunset, and the moments before and after. If you are unsure about the correct exposure, take one picture at the exposure you think looks best, then take two more photos at either side of that exposure — one slightly darker and one a little lighter. This has some advantages.

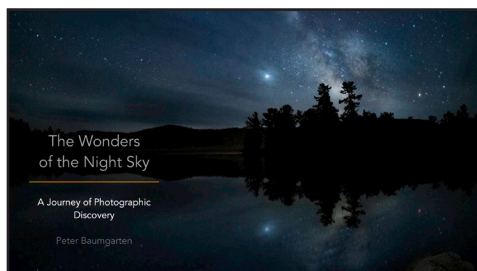

- It allows you to capture every detail in a scene.
- It helps you avoid overexposing or underexposing your photos.
- It gives you more options to choose from when you're editing.

Try using a polarising filter to help with the glare. Remember to check your horizon is straight. Return in bad weather and always remember that sand and water can hurt your camera.

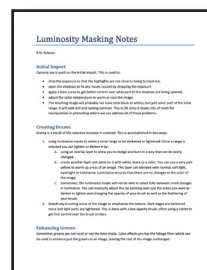

If you have a tip you'd like to share with the club, email Jacqui at VP@tdpc.ca.

BIO

Ray and Mary Ann Anderson have been members of the Toronto Camera Club since 1992. Traveling for over 35 years, photography has always been part of this couple's itinerary. The pair has visited over 45 countries together. They are particularly attracted to independent travel and exploring less travelled parts of the world — areas that have not yet been spoiled by tourism. Their curiosity is about the landscape and the culture of each country they visit. Their goal is to bring something new and different to every show they create – something you don't normally see in travelogues. Their current shows incorporate a mix of photo, video, drone and time-lapse images.

LOCAL EXHIBIT

TERRAIN

Philip Jessup

Photographic exhibit at
The Bob Carnie Gallery
1681 Dundas Street West, Toronto
March 4 – April 15, 2024

Nature's chaos is the focus of Philip Jessup's landscape photography. Clashing elements bring out the ephemeral character of natural environments buffeted by climate change and natural disasters in a variety of terrains.

The exhibit features a curated selection of images from the past 20 years. It includes Toronto's ravines carved by receding glaciers; melting Arctic ice shelves; primordial mangroves in Hong Kong's Mai Po Nature Reserve and Mexico's Sian Ka'an Biosphere Reserve; and a Marshall Islands atoll endangered by sea level rise. Very recent images of Iceland's lava fields are also featured.

Jessup created these images using the colour gum over palladium process, which produces gorgeous as well as permanent prints. The process uses ground minerals, tree sap and cotton paper. Each print takes four days to make.

Continuing his life-long work as an environmental advocate, Jessup's photography is his way to show the beauty of these places while signaling a warning that some may disappear forever if we don't take action now.

Eclipse Viewing

CELEBRATE THE TOTAL SOLAR ECLIPSE WITH THE TRCA TOMMY THOMPSON PARK

On April 8, 2024, a total solar eclipse will cross North America. This will be the last total solar eclipse in Canada until 2044. Celebrate the solar eclipse on April 8 with your friends and family at Tommy Thompson Park (TTP)! While outside of the path of totality, viewers at TTP will experience a deep partial eclipse, with a magnitude of 99.56%.

Book a guided hiking tour through Toronto's Urban Wilderness and view the eclipse from one of TTP's unique natural viewpoints. Read through the event details below and select your preferred viewpoint to register! For more information.

SOLAR VIEWING, LEARN ABOUT THE ECLIPSE \ DOWNSVIEW PARK

Join York University astronomers from the Allan I Carswell Observatory to view the Sun! If the sky is clear we will take solar appropriate telescopes outside and view the sun, if there are cloudy conditions we will pass out glasses and demonstrate pinhole cameras. We will be joined by members from RCI Science and Space Place Canada so this should be a very exciting event! This program will include eclipse FAQ and a discussion of how to enjoy the partial eclipse from Toronto. For more information.

MEMBER TESTIMONIAL

FIVE STAR RATING!

Joining the Toronto Digital Photo Club has introduced me to a vibrant photographic community which provides both inspiration and collegiality. Monthly talks by renowned national and international photographers, frequent outings to explore diverse landscapes as well as regular competitions, give both novice and experienced photographers the opportunity to bring their skills to new levels.

I have particularly enjoyed the special interest and evaluation groups which offer individual feedback with more in-depth instruction and discussion on specified topics. These group meetings have enhanced not only my skills but also my creativity.

I would strongly recommend joining the TDPC for any photographer seeking a dynamic hub for inspiration and growth.
